child of around six of age. I saw myself stretched on the ground lying on my right side. I was very thin and I had barely any hair on me, it looked very very short. The place was very dark and the sky black. — Then I heard myself. I was breathing with pain, just like someone who has got asthma. Standing near me from behind me was Someone. His mere presence was consoling. I saw Him bend over me and lifted me all the way to His Bosom. I felt His Immense Love and I saw this little person that was me, turn my eyes leftward to see Him. The white of my eyes was yellow and I was shocked to see how sick I was! With the little strength I had and whatever was left in me, I saw my skinny little hand stretch and clasped desperately His large sleeve. Immediately at this gesture I felt the Holy One's Heart: His Heart cried out of pity, such pity and love! He carried me then ever so gently and tenderly for His
